SCRIPTURE.

My son, attend unio my wisdom, and bow thine car to my understand-My son, attend this my wissom, and how thine car to my understanding.

That then mayest regard discretion, and that thy lips may keep knowledge.

For the lips of a strange woman drop me an honeycomb, and her mouth is smoother than oil.

But her end is bitter as wormwood, sharp as a two edged sword. Her feet go down to death; her steps take hold on heil lest thou canst not know them. Hear me new therefore, 0 ye children, and depart not from the words of my mouth.

Remove thy way far from her, and come not nigh the door of her house: Lest thou give thine honour unto others, and thy prane unto the crueficest strangers be filled with thy wealth; and thy labors be in the house of a stranger.
